BRAME CAUGHT.

The Slayer of Conductor Lemon In the Toils.

Pulled by a Detective.

Black Hills.

[Monday's Daily.]

William T. Brame, the murderer of Conductor Lemon, has at last been caught. The following special to the where he was eaught:

senger conductor on the Louisville & day night. He was employed as an day night. He was employed as an ice cutter and went by the name of John H. Thompson. The murder was committed on the 11th of September last. Brame was located in Florence by means of decoy letters sent by Chief Detectives Stewart, of the Louisville & Nashville Road.

The Clarksville Board meets when played them for all they were worth. Brame confess d to the murder of To the person living inside of the city who comes nearest guessing carry him beyond a station to which the population of Clarksville, as will appear in next census.

Brame was seen by Mr. R. W. Roach on the Southeastern Road yesterday in charge of officers who were taking him to Nashville, He talked pretty freely to Mr. Roach and said that when he shot Lemon he hid around in the neighborhood foot for the west. He traveled at night altogether, and reached a point in Illinois where he got a job as brakeman on a freight train and went to Kansas City. At this place he struck a party who were getting hands to go the Black Hills to work. He joined them and staid in the hills for some time when he went to Omaha, Neb. He assumed the name of J. Q. Thomas, instead of John H. Thompson, as the American has it, and wrote home to his children sending them money. The letter fell into the hands of Mr. Stewart, the chief detective of the Louis and led to the arrest.

When caught Brame was working for a company who were cutting willows for the purpose of building jetties, and had rented a cabin near Florence, Neb., and was living there,

Brame wanted to know of Mr. Roach who edited the CHRONICLE and Tobacco Leaf at this place. He sented him and that he "just wanted toknow who wrote him up." He can find this out by calling at the W. J. ELY, Book Keeper office of either paper. The reason this is said is because there is no danger of him ever getting away from the officers who now have him in cus- ville enterprise will enroll his name
